Chain of Responsibility

Driver fatigue laws apply to all heavy vehicles throughout Australia. Fatigue is regulated by NHVAS and enforced by State and Territory authorities.

A heavy vehicle is:

- a vehicle with a Gross Vehicle Mass (GVM) of over 12t
- a combination when the total of the GVM is over 12t
- buses fitted to carry more than 12 adults (including the driver)

TLIF0001 – Apply Chain of Responsibility Legislation, Regulations & Workplace Procedures

This unit involves the skills and knowledge required to identify, apply and follow chain of responsibility legislation, regulations and workplace procedures in relation to heavy vehicles as they apply to an individual's own job role.

It includes explaining the chain of responsibility features, applying the requirements, and identifying and reporting breaches in the Heavy Vehicle National Law (HVNL) and regulations or applicable state/territory law and regulations.

TLIF0002 – Administer Chain of Responsibility Policies & Procedures

This unit involves the skills and knowledge required to identify, apply and follow chain of responsibility policies and procedures in a supervisory role in relation to heavy vehicles.

It includes explaining the chain of responsibility features and administering the requirements in the Heavy Vehicle National Law (HVNL) and regulations or applicable state/territory law and regulations. It also involves administering and monitoring chain of responsibility workplace policies and procedures, and identifying and reporting chain of responsibility breaches.

Chain of responsibility courses also available. They are nationally recognised and comply with the unit of competency from the Transport and Logistics Industry training package.
